

Cook & Serve

The Cook & Serve collection takes a traditional home style presentation to the trendiest restaurants – marrying home cooked comforts and gourmet delicacies. Made from our proprietary grade of borosilicate glass, Cook & Serve is stronger, smoother and safer than any other type of glass cookware on the market.

Cook & Serve heats up gently and evenly so that foods are cooked uniformly and all the natural flavors and juices are maintained and cleaning is made simple with Arc's special manufacturing process which creates an ultra smooth surface for easy food release. It can withstand temperatures of a minimum -40° F and maximum 572° F, along with 428° F of thermal shock resistance (as opposed to 356° F for ordinary soda-lime glass ovenware).

Cook & Serve offers a convenient way to go from oven to table while offering a flattering presentation for main courses, appetizers and desserts. The transparent glass materials allows the food to be the focal point.
